DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-27 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As to claim 1, relevant prior art of record did not disclose, alone or in combination, an active matrix device comprising: ^{charge?} a first capacitor connected to an image element, and a first semiconductor switch for connecting a data line to the first capacitor and image element, and wherein each picture element comprises a second capacitor and a second semiconductor switch switchable independently of the first switch to connect the second capacitor to the first capacitor and the image element so as to increase charge storage capacity.

Such independently switchable second semiconductor switch serves to connect the second capacitor to the first capacitor and results in a novel active matrix display structure for increasing charge storage capacity.

Related art patent 5,650,636 to Takemura et al. discloses in Figure 1C, transistors (121 and 122) and capacitors (123 and 124) but the transistors of Takemura are turned on and off concurrently by the same gate line and are thus not switchable independently as recited in claim 1. Similarly, related art patent, US 5,936,686 to Okumura et al., discloses in Figures 2-4, a reset switching device (6) and TFT (3) where the reset switching device (6) is turned on by a scanning signal supplied from scanning line (9) and TFT (3) is turned on by a scanning signal supplied from scanning line (2). The array device of Okumura furthermore lacks the other claimed features as recited in claim 1. Patents EP 0375 233 (to Matsueda) and EP 0 465 111 A2 (to Takeda et al.) feature transistors connected to a mutual signal line and thus the transistors cannot be independently switched.

As to claims 2-27, they are directly or indirectly dependent upon claims with allowable subject matter above.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
